NIH All of Us (AoU) Research Program for Jackson-Hinds Comprehensive Health Center, Jackson, MS, USA

Abstract: Jackson-Hinds Comprehensive Health Center (JHCHC) was selected as one of six Federally Qualified Health Centers (FQHCs) in the County to participate in this pilot project launching the All of Us (AoU) Research Program. The All of Us, formerly PMI (Precision Medicine Initiative) Cohort Program is a landmark longitudinal biomedical research effort that aims to engage 1 million or more U.S. participants to improve our ability to prevent and treat disease based on individual differences in lifestyle, environment and genetics.
